TED TURNER

What do you call a man who: owns two professional sports franchises, a television station, a communications corporation, an outdoor advertising company, chews tobacco and spends the summer sailing a twelve meter yacht off the coast of Newport?

If that man is Ted Turner, Chairman of The Board of The Atlanta Hawks, you call him brilliant, fascinating and Atlanta's sports-savior and salvation.

When Turner bought the Hawks last winter, he had only two thoughts in mind. One, to keep the Hawks in Atlanta which he has done and secondly, to produce a winning basketball club.

With Hubie Brown leading the Hawks as head coach for the first year, Turner was convinced the Hawks could become a top-ranked contender in the NBA.

Competition at the top is not at all foreign to Turner, who was selected to defend the America's cup at the helm of Courageous, the twelve meter boat he successfully guided to victory during the summer-long trials at Newport this year.

One of the world's top Yachtsmen, Turner has won several championships and was honored as the Martini and Rossi Yachtsman-Of-The-Year in 1970 and after attending Brown University, the Hawks owner began his business career as an account executive for Turner Advertising Company in Savannah. After escalating to the Post of General Manager in 1960, Turner was transferred to Atlanta where he became president of the various Turner companies in 1963.

Turner took over faltering WTCG-TV, Channel 17, in 1970 and guided the station to its present high ratings. He relies on sports programming, movies and reruns of old television shows for the station's success. He accomplished the same feat with WRET-TV in Charlotte.

An avid sports enthusiast, Turner purchased the Atlanta Braves in January of 1976 to further add to his list of business interests.

A 38-year-old native of Cincinnati, Turner is married to the former Jane Shirley Smith of Birmingham. They have five children, Laura Lee, R.E. Turner IV, Rhett, Beau and Jean.

HUBIE BROWN

HEAD COACH

It didn't take long for first-year head coach Hubie Brown to gain the respect of his Atlanta players nor to win the admiration and praise of the Atlanta sports community.

After only one season at the Hawks helm, Brown has added respectability to the ball club and proven that the hawks can produce a winner, evident after the fine second-half season the Hawks had last year.

A man who believes in being totally prepared, second-year Coach Brown hopes to balance the Hawks record with a reputation of discipline, organization, teaching ability, an emphasis on defense, a positive attitude and of course, winning at basketball.

"We have taken the first step which is to gain respect and become competitive," says Brown. "But until we reach the playoffs on a regular basis, the job is far from one of satisfaction."

A former head coach of the American Basketball Association Kentucky Colonels, Brown refined his winning ingredients to the tune of a 58-26 record and the 1975 ABA championship. The Colonels won a play-off with the New York Nets for the Eastern Division crown and then knocked off Memphis, St. Louis, and Indiana in the play-offs. On 1976, Kentucky posted a 46-38 mark and advanced to the ABA play-off semi-finals before dropping the seventh game to Denver.

Brown, 44, began his coaching career as a defensive coach at Duke Univ. where the Blue Devils earned a National Invitational Tournament berth in 1970 and 1971. He joined former Niagara University teammate Larry Costello at Milwaukee in 1973 and helped guide the Bucks to first place in the NBA's Midwest Division for two seasons. Additionally, the Bucks possessed one of the leagues best defensive averages in 1973 and 1974.

A native of Hazletown, Pa., Brown earned a bachelors degree in economics and a masters degree in education from Niagara. He played basketball in the Eastern league for four years and AAU ball while in the Army. One of the most highly regarded basketball clinicians in the country, Brown spends much of his off-season lecturing at clinics throughout the nation.

Hubie and his wife, Claire, have four children: Molly, 16; Ginny, 15; Julie, 12; and Brendon, 7. All are active sports fans and participants.

FRANK LAYDEN

Assistant Coach

Frank Layden enters his second season as the Atlanta Hawks assistant coach since being named to the post in July of 1976.

Layden, 45, compiled an eight season record of 119-97 as head coach with Niagara University before joining the Hawks. While at Niagara, Layden directed the Purple Eagles to the schools first holiday tournament championship, and then followed it with three others.

A 22-7 record in 1970 as well as Niagara's only NCAA tournament appearance that same year were among the highlights of Layden's coaching career. The Hawks' assistant also coached his teams to the National Invitational Tournament in both 1972 and 1976. The Purple Eagles notched three straight upsets in the 1972 tourney, before bowing to Maryland in the finals.

Perhaps, the best known product of the Layden-coached Niagara teams is Calvin Murphy, a former All-American and current star in the NBA. Layden also instructed swingman Marshall Wingate, the leading scorer in the 1972 NIT; guard, Al Williams, a little All-American (for players under 6-0) in 1972 and 1973 and guard-forward, Andy Walker, who ended the 1976 season as the schools fourth all-time leading scorer.

A native of Brooklyn, Layden will concentrate on assisting head coach Hubie Brown on the bench and during practice sessions. The two were college roommates and teammates at Niagara in the mid 1950's.

Previous to his Niagara post, Layden spent two years in the Army and coached high school basketball on Long Island before becoming head coach and athletic director at Adelphi-Suffolk College, now Downing College in 1966.

In addition to his outstanding coaching record, Layden is also known for his keen sense of humor, his talent as an after dinner speaker and for his active involvement in community affairs. A devoted family man, Frank and his wife Barbara have three children: Scott, 19; Michael, 10; and Kate, 7.

JOE O'TOOLE

Trainer

Most basketball fans think a man would have to be crazy to sit on the Hawks bench for nine consecutive years and never get to play. But the man who sits there enjoys it — it's his job.

As trainer and traveling secretary, for the Atlanta franchise, Joe O'Toole can be considered the Hawks all-purpose man. Besides treating the clubs injured players, the man in the familiar red slacks and white shirt handles other often forgotten necessities like hotel and flight reservations and bus charters. During Hawks games, he is seen scribbling notes on statistic sheets, protesting or cheering referees decisions and generally adding to the mayhem on the teams bench.

One of the most respected men in the athletic training business, Joe served four years as Chairman of the National Basketball Trainers Association before stepping down this season.

Born in Syracuse, N. Y., Joe earned his bachelors degree from Cortland (N.Y.) State, and a physical therapy certificate from the Mayo Clinic. The Hawks trainer then received his masters degree from Indiana University and accepted an assistant trainers position at the University of Wisconsin. He was busy patching up disabled Badgers when the Hawks job became available.

O'Toole developed an interest in macrame several years ago and now packs an extra suitcase with supplies so he can tie projects on Hawks road trips.

SKIP CARAY

Hawks Broadcast Team

For Skip Caray the season never ends. The 37 year old St. Louis native will be entering his 11th season as voice of the St. Louis/Atlanta Hawks in 77-78, and is completing his second year of involvement in Atlanta Braves telecasts as well.

Caray's career in broadcasting is a varied one. He has broadcast soccer (Atlanta Apollo's), professional football (Atlanta Falcons preseason television), minor league baseball (Tulsa Oilers and Atlanta Crackers), college football (University of Missouri and Florida State), college basketball (St. Louis University) and both high school football and basketball. Caray even once did a radio play-by-play broadcast of the Ringling Brothers Circus while serving as a director and sportscaster for KMOX Radio, St. Louis, and is also involved in Turner pay-cable experimental telecasts of selected Braves home games into Florida.

Aside from play-by-play duties Caray serves as Director of Communications for the Hawks and hosts a popular weekly talk radio program on station WRNG in Atlanta with Flames announcer John Kenneth McDonald.

The former prep football and baseball standout will host The Hubie Brown Show this fall on the Hawks Radio Network.

Carey is a three-time winner of the Georgia Sportscaster of the Year award and was an honor graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism in 1961.

Caray's wife Paula runs a popular men's hairstyling salon in downtown Atlanta. The Caray's and daughter Shayelyn, 8, live in Northeast Atlanta.

Two children by a previous marriage (Chip, 12, Cindy, 11) reside in Saint Louis.
